

Author Submission Form

Principal Author Information (boxes expand as you type):

Date Submitted:
Name of Principal Author: (Please note that CPH Journal will direct communication to this person only.)	By completing this form and submitting an article for review, I hereby consent to the information in this form being used by CPH Journal for the purposes of review and administration, and by including co-author's details below, I certify that I have obtained their verbal permission to include their information for these purposes.
Mailing Address:
Phone:
Mobile:
Email:
Affiliation:
Association Membership:
Level of Membership:
Occupation:
Qualifications:

Article Information:

Title:
Abstract, 150 words or less:
Qualitative or Quantitative:
List of Keywords: (Please list between 5 and max 10 keywords that describe the article for search and retrieval systems.)
Category of Article: (Please delete those not applicable/check applicable categories.)	<input type="radio"/> Original research in counselling and/or psychotherapy, and the use of counselling and/or psychotherapy in allied health fields; or <input type="radio"/> Original research in allied health that addresses implications for counselling and/or psychotherapy practice, training, policy or professional discourse; or <input type="radio"/> Original research addressing some aspect of the Guiding Values of CPH Journal ; or <input type="radio"/> Case studies, where ethical methods of data collection have been applied; <input type="radio"/> Critical discussions, reviews and debates regarding the relevance to practice of existing research studies; <input type="radio"/> Papers that address conceptual issues related to practice in counselling and/or psychotherapy directly, or those that are related to the use of counselling and/or psychotherapy in allied health fields (ie philosophical, theoretical, political, sociological, historical, structural, critical); or <input type="radio"/> Studies related to the cultural, historical and social contexts of emerging practices; or <input type="radio"/> Papers that address methodological, moral and/or ethical issues impacting on the practice of counselling, psychotherapy and health.

Counselling, Psychotherapy and Health
An International Interdisciplinary On-line WWW Refereed Journal –
Devoted to Providing Leadership in Innovative, Integrative, Holistic and Exploratory Research, Inquiry,
Professional, and Scholarly Debate

Co-Author Information:

List all Co-author(s) names and affiliations:  (In the order they will appear if/when article is published.)
---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	--

Please attach article

Browse /
Attach

Send

Marissa Butterworth, Administrator, CPH Journal
C/O - P.O. Box 88, Grange Qld 4051
Phone: 1300 784 333
Fax: (07) 3356 4709
Email: marissa@theaca.net.au